INTRODUCTION.

EORGE CLARKE, whose Account of his first Voyage to America we find among the Manuscripts in the Secretary of State's Office, Albany, and now put into Print, filled several publick Offices in the Colony of New York, and was finally Lieutenant Governour of that Province from 1736 to 1743.

He was the Son of George Clarke, of Swainswick, Somersetshire, England. Under the Head of Swainswick, in Collinson's History of Somersetshire, I, 154, 155, we find that five Bells hang in the Tower of the Church of St. Mary of that Place. On the 2d of these Bells is the following Infcription: "George Clarke, Laurence Waldrun, John Nodes, Churchwardens. R. P. 1664." On the 5th Bell, "These Bells were cast at the Charge of the Parish. Bengeman Tanner Clarke, George Clarke, Laurence Waldrun, John Nodes, Churchwardens. R. P. 1664."

There are various Inscriptions on the Altar Steps of faid Church, also, and among them the following:

"Here lyeth the Body of Elizabeth, the Wife of George Clarke, who dyed the 7th Day of June 1670."*

"Here lyeth the Body of Mrs. Beatrix Clarke, Daughter of Mr. George Clarke, who departed this Life the 4th Day of July, 1690."

We next find the following Entry in a Diary of contemporaneous

* If the Age of Lieutenant Governor Clarke at his Death, as indicated on his Monument, be correct, this cannot be his Mother. Possibly his Father might have contracted a second Marriage; as our George Clarke seems to have been born in 1676.

Events; but must leave to the Reader to decide for himself whether the Gentleman of that Name mentioned in it, was connected with the Subject of this Notice:

"On the 31 October 1682, Mr. Edward Whitaker (or the true Protestant Atturney, as some call him) was tried at the Kings Bench Bar by a substantial Jury of the County of Somersett, for speaking seditious and scandalous Words at the City of Bath, in the said County, about the latter End of July 1680; the Words were to this Effect; That there was Talk of War and a Rebellion in the late Times, but he knew of none; 'tis true, there was a Warr by the Parliament and People in defence of their just Liberties; and that the late King was putt to Death by a judiciall Processe, and not murd'red; and that the People had Right to a Parliament every Year, and they ought to fitt, whither called or not. This was fully proved by three Witnesses, viz, one George Clark, Esq. a Justice of the Peace of that County, Sir James Long, and an Alderman of the City of Bath, who heard this Discourse in a publick Coffee House in that City: but the said Whitaker not appearing, nor any for him, the Inquest was taken by Default; so that the Jury, without stirring from the Barr, found him guilty."

George Clarke, the Subject of this Memoir, was born in 1676. He had Genius, fays Smith,\* but no other than a Common School Education. He was in early Youth articled to an Attorney; and the next we learn of him is in 1701, \* Sir Richard Levings of Parwick, Kent, afterwards of Living ston, or High Park, Westmeath, Ireland, had been Recorder and Member of Parliament for Chester. He was appointed Solicitor General in Ireland in 1600, and created afterwards a Knight; but was removed from the Solicitorship 1st June, 1605. He filled also the Office of Speaker of the House of Commons. April 30, 1699, he was appointed one of the seven Commissioners to take an Account of the forfeited Estates in Ireland, and Jan. 17,  $\frac{1699}{1700}$ , was fent to the Tower for aspersing four of his Brother Commissioners; but, on the Prorogation of Parliament (April 13), was released from his Imprisonment, having been previously allowed £500 out of the forfeited Estates. He acted, we presume, as one of the Commissioners in the above Case. October 26, 1704, he was created a Baronet of the Kingdom of Ireland, and reappointed Solicitor General; but on September 15, 1709, he was sufpended, and John Forster, Esq., appointed in his Place. In 1711, he was appointed Attorney General, and in 1720, Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas, Ireland, and Privy Councillor. He was married twice, and died in 1724. The Baronetcy is still extant.

* We find RICHARD PYNE, Esq., appointed Chief Justice of the Common Pleas (Ireland), in 169%. He was succeeded by Chief Baron Heley 1st June, 1695, having been promoted to the Office of Chief Justice. He was created a Knight, and died December, 1709.

† Sir William Stapleton, Kt., of an ancient Family of Tipperary, was appointed, in 1667, Governor of the Leeward Islands, and created a Baronet 20th December, 1679. He married Anne, Daughter of Col. Randolph Russel, Governor of Nevis, and died August 3, 1686, when he was succeeded in his Office by Sir Nathaniel Johnson, and in his Title by his Son, Sir William Stapleton of Nevis, Bart., born 14th November, 1674, who married Frances, Daughter of Sir James Russell, and had two Sons; one of whom, James Russell Stapleton, was Colonel in the Guards.

Mr. Clarke had the good Fortune of having for his Uncle, William Blathwaite, of St. Martins, London,* a Gentleman who from his

\*WILLIAM BLATHWAITE married, 23d December, 1686, Mary Wynter, of Dyrham, in the County of Glocester; he was appointed in the same Year Clerk of his Majesty's Council in Ordinary, and Auditor-General of the Revenues of the Plantations. Feb. 19,  $168\frac{8}{9}$ , he was sworn Clerk of the Privy Council, and held that Office also under Queen Anne; in 1690, he was Secretary of War, which great Learning and Knowledge in modern Languages and Application to Business, was advanced to several publick Offices of Distinction. Through the Influence of this Relative, Mr. Clarke was appointed in Office he filled until 1704. In 1692, he accompanied King William to Flanders as Secretary of State, and in that Capacity carried with him the Seals. He accompanied his Majesty again to Flanders in 1695, and to Holland in 1698. He represented the City of Bath in Parliament from 1690 to 1710; was Member of the Board of Trade from 1696 to 1710; was also Secretary of the Plantations, or Lords of Trade, until his Death, which occurred 26th August, 1717. It was reported at one Time, that the Crown intended to elevate him, as a Reward for his many and long Services, to the Earldom of Bristol. His Daughter and Heiress married Sir Richard Southwell, whose Grandson succeeded to the Title of Lord De Clifford.

It was after receiving this Appointment that Mr. Clarke fet out for America, in Company with Mr. Thomas Byerley, the newly appointed Receiver General (a Sketch of whose Life we have added in a Note to the Text), and arrived on the 7th of July in Virginia, whence he transmitted the Letter we now publish. He finally reached New York on 23d July, 1703, and was sworn into Office on the following Day.

The Office of Clerk of the Council had originally been intended, deemed and taken to be Part of and to belong to that of Secretary of the Province, and had so been enjoyed for several Years, until some of the Governors had at length separated it from that of Secretary; and it so remained detached previous to and for some Time after Mr.

On the 18th April following he obtained Leave of Absence for one Year, and left New York in May or June for England, in Company with his former Fellow-Voyager, Thomas Byerley, who had, a few Weeks before, been suspended from his Office of Receiver-General. Mr. Clarke's Absence from the Province, however, was not as long as his Leave permitted; for we find him again at his Post in the following September.

Some Years afterwards he married Anne Hyde, a Lady of fine Accomplishments, and a distant Relation of that Branch of the Family, fo highly distinguished by the famous Lord Chancellor Clarendon. She was the Daughter of Edward Hyde, Efq., of Norbury and Hyde Hall, Cheshire, and of Catherine, Daughter of Alexander Rigby, Efq., of Leighton. Mr. Clarke, subfequent to his marriage, took up his Residence on Long Island, where he purchased from Thomas and

Walter Dongan, of Staten Island, nearly one hundred Acres of Land on Hempstead Plains, on which he erected a rural Villa. Here he spent, with his Wife, Mrs. Hyde, her Mother, and his Children, a great Portion of his Time, leaving the Details of the Secretary's Office to be attended to by his Deputy. This Country Seat was called Hyde Park;*

* Hyde Park is in the fouthwest Part of the Town of North Hempstead. It was afterwards the Property of George Duncan Ludlow, Justice of the Supreme Court of the Colony of New York, and was confiscated at the Revolution. It was occupied by William Cobbett in 1817, when it was destroyed by Fire. Mr. Henry Onderdonk informs me that the Property is now owned by Mr. Kelsey.

and here many of his Children were born.

It is not our intention to enter into a Detail of the public Events with which Mr. Clarke's Name is connected. These are already familiar to the Reader through the various Histories of New York, and the Documents relating thereto, published by the State. Our Purpose is, rather, with his personal and Family History.

After a wedded Life of more than a quarter of a Century, he was called on to mourn the Loss of his accomplished Lady, the Mother of eight Children, whose Death and Burial are recorded in Bradford's New York Gazette of the 26th May, 1740, in the following Terms:

"On Monday the 19th of this Instant May, depart (sic) this Life, in the 47th Year of her Age, the Lady of the honourable George Clarke, Esq; his Majesty's Lieutenant Governour of this Province: She was the eldest Daughter of the late honourable Edward Hyde Esq;*

*We find that Edward Hyde, Nephew of the Earl of Rochester, was appointed Governor of North Carolina in 1709; went to that Country in 1710, and died there of Yellow Fever 12th September, 1712. Was this the Gentleman mentioned in the above Notice?

who descended from one of the most ancient Families in England: They were originally of the Principality of Wales, but settled at Hyde in Cheshire about one hundred Years before William the Conquorer came into England, which has ever fince been the Seat of the Family. The two Noble Families of the Clarendons and Rochesters are defcended from that of the Hydes, as was (sic) the late Queens, Mary and Anne, from the Clarendons. As for the Character of Mrs. Clarke, It may truly be faid, that few or none equalled her; She was a most Affectionate, and (if I may be allowed the Expression) Dutiful Wife, a Tender and Indulgent Parent, a kind Mistress, and a sincere Friend; She was Charitable to all that were Objects of it, without Exception, and ever delighted in doing good Offices: She was a fine graceful Person, and a most agreeable Companion, and of that Sweetness and Calmness of Temper, that Nothing could ruffle it, or draw a hard Expression from her: She never fail'd attending on the Publick Worship of her Maker, when her Health would permit; and, perhaps, few more punctual in the Duties of the Closet; and indeed, she dyed with that Calmness, Serenity and Resignation, that show'd her truly Christian. Her Loss is not only greatly lamented by her own Family, and those who had the Honour of being allyed to her, but as well by all who ever had the Pleasure of converfing with her, as the many who have felt her Bounty. On Thursday Evening she was Interred in a Vault in Trinity Church, with the Remains of her Mother, and the late Lady Cornbury, in the most handsome and decent Manner; her Pall being supported by Part of his Majesty's Council for this Province, and some of the Members of the General Affembly, and attended by all the Ministers, and most of the Principal Inhabitants of the City (Minute Guns being fired from the Fort, and fundry Vessels in the Harbour, during the Solemnity) And as it was a Pleasure to Her in her Life, to feed the Hungry, fo on the Day of her Funeral a Loaf of Bread was given to every Poor Person that would receive it."

After the Accession of Admiral Clinton to the Government in 1743,

Mr. Clarke took no further Part in public Affairs, and declined qualifying himself as Executive Councillor. He lest New York the 14th of June, 1745, and proceeded to Boston, where he embarked with his Family for England, to take Possession of a handsome Estate in Cheshire, purchased with the Fortune he amassed in America; for though he had many Children, they made no Connexions in this Country.* He was taken Prisoner

He was, fays Smith,* fenfible, artful, active and cautious; had a perfect Command of his Temper, and was in his Address fpecious and civil. Nor was any Man better acquainted with the Colony and its Affairs. As a Crown Officer, he was careful not to lose the Favor of any Governor, and still more assiduous to please when he became fecond in the Council Board. By his Offices of Secretary,

The Probate is dated London, 6 December 1777.

Hyde Hall, in Cheshire, is now the Property of Edward Hyde Clarke, Esq., who is the Head of the Family.* It has not been inhabited for many Years, and has been allowed to go into utter Decay, in Consequence of the close Proximity of the manufacturing Town of Hyde, which is built on a large Portion of the Estate; what with the Factories and the Coal Mines, the whole Place has entirely changed its Appearance and Character. What was once a beautiful Country Seat is no longer a Place of Retirement, and the Trout Stream in front of the House runs with Pollution, its Waters being of nearly every Color, owing to the offensive Discharges from the Factories. The splendid Estate in Somersetshire finally defcended to Edward Clarke, who was its last Proprietor. This Gentleman was a great Friend of Mr. Pitt, and reputed to have been one of the richest Commoners in England. In his Support of the great Statesman, he spared not his Means, and thus encumbered his Property, which has passed, in consequence, entirely out of the Hands of the Descendants of George Clarke, former Lieutenant Governor of the Colony of New York.

The Swainswick Estate in the Island of Jamaica, now belongs to George Rochfort Clarke, Esq. The Hyde Estate, also on that Island, late the Property of Tanner O. Clarke, Esq., was sold two or three Years ago, having become greatly depreciated in Value in Consequence of the Abolition of Slavery in the British West Indies.*

LETTER.

HE favours I have reced from You oblige me to use all oppertunityes of returning my heartyest thanks, and I should think my selfe very happy if I could add to them a small prsent of the product of this Country but to my sorrow I have seen nothing yett that would be acceptable wth you, You are fensible here is noe news nor any thing else to divert you wth a relation of in this Savage parte of the world and I cant tell how to parte wth you soe soon. Therefore I had much rather be laught at for a long impertinence then deny my selfe the satisfacôn I have in writing to my Dearest freind.

A Voyage to America af fords little of Curiofity att best and this that I have made nothing att all. However,

That you may believe I am gott to New York] I ought tell you I left London the first day of Aprill last and the last man I took my Leave of was Dear Wm Putley who fate up wth me all night & in the morning fee me into the Canterbury stage Coach which being full of old Woemen & Yeomen of Kent, I thought my relfe happy in my Debauch over night, that it gave me an occasion of sleeping away a day wch other wife would have infallably grafted the Spleen in me for the voyage.

The first night I gott to Canterbury where I mett wth M<sup>r</sup> Byerly* who went to Deale

* Thomas Byerley was Brother of Col. Robert Byerley, of Goldborough, Yorkshire, Eng., who served under King William the Third, in Ireland, and commanded the Sixth Regiment of Dragoons 1689-1692. He afterwards was one of the Representatives of the above County in the House of Commons, of which Body he was a prominent Member. Through his Influence, it is supposed, that the Subject

two days before, but the Wind being Contrary returned to

of this Note received the Appointment of Receiver General of the Province, and Collector of the Port of New York, 26th September, 1702, at an annual Salary of £200 Sterling and Fees. Mr. Byerley arrived at New York, in Company with Mr. Clark, 29th July, 1703, and was fworn into Office on the following Day. Lord Cornbury, who was then at the Head of the Government, foon manifested ill Will towards him; for we find in 1704 that they transmitted Complaints to England, the one against the other, and Mr. Byerley was suspended from his Office 17th April, 1705. Hereupon, he returned to England, and laid his Case before Lord Godolphin, then Lord High Treasurer, who referred the Matter to the Commissioners of the Customs; and they reporting that the Petitioner had behaved himself according to his Duty in the Trust reposed in him, his Lordship, in a Letter to Lord Cornbury, dated 7th January, 1705, stated that Mr. Byerley holding a Patent Office, should not have been suspended until the Cause had been communicated to the Treasury, and therefore ordered his Restoration; and as his Suspension had been declared illegal, his Salary, &c., during his Sufpension, amounting ever, the next Morning I thought it Convenient to give to £438. 12. 4, was directed to be repaid by Mr. Peter Fauconier, who had filled the Office in Mr. Byerley's Abfence. The latter entered again on his Duties 6th February, 170%, but the old Enmity entertained against him by Lord Cornbury revived; for on the 18th Ostober, 1708, we find the following Minute of Council:

Canterbury for the Conveniency of Entertainm<sup>t</sup>. How-

"M' Byerley having ffrequently refused to obey the Ord" of the Gov in Councill thô often repeated to him & having been summoned to appear before this Board and askt if he could produce any authority orders or Directions from England to justifye himself in that his disobedience & producing none but still continuing to disobey the orders of this Board & having refused & neglected to accot before the Board according to the Queen's Directions and having committed feverall frauds in the management of the Revenue of this Province fome whereof have manifestly appeared to this Board, his Exly does therefore think fitt by vertue of the power & authority to him given by her ma'tie under the Broad Seal of England & Likewise in her maties Royall Instructions to his Exly, to suspend the faid Thomas Byerley from his office of Coll<sup>r</sup> & Receiv<sup>r</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> of this Province of the Virginia Convoy for carrying me and my Serv<sup>t</sup>, till her matie's Pleasure shall be further known, and the said Thomas Byerleyis accordingly suspended from the said ofice of Coll<sup>r</sup> & receiv Gen<sup>II</sup> of the Customs."

On the 25th of the same Month, a Petition was presented to the Council to oblige him to account for £1090. 16.11\(^3\)_4d, detained by him without any Warrant. A Bill was hereupon introduced into the Council for that Purpose, and having passed that Body was sent down to the Assembly. It failed, however, to become a Law, having only reached a second Reading in that House.

especially because I thought it adviseable to be as well ac-

Mr. Byerley now returned a fecond Time to England, and petitioned for Redrefs. His Petition was referred to Mr. Blathwayte, Auditor General for the Plantations, who reporting favorably upon it, Lord Lovelace, the new Governor, received Orders to restore him to his Office, which his Lordship accordingly did on 17th January, 1708. Lord Lovelace, dying foon after, was fucceeded by Lt. Gov. Ingoldefby, who, it is charged, was fo influenced by Lord Cornbury and his Party, that he issued a Writ Ne exeat Provinciam against Mr. Byerley. The latter having Notice thereof withdrew, and a Proclamation was iffued 28th May, 1709, for his Apprehension and he was thereupon arrested. The Matter was settled however, for we find Mr. Byerley soon after again in the Execution of his Office.

Governor Hunter commenced his Administration in the following Year, and Mr. Byerley seems now to have had some Respite from Persecution. Lord Cornbury had already been instructed to call Mr. Byerley to the Council, but he declined obeying the Order. Mr. Byerley therefore requested that the Order should be repeated to his Successor, as the Receiver General

Accordingly, I took a place in the Deale Coach in which had always been a Member of that Body. He was accordingly summoned to the Council in 1711, and held a Seat in that Board until his Death. In 1713 he was appointed Member of the Council of New Jersey, and so continued for ten Years.

Soon after the Restoration to his Office, he instituted an Action in the Supreme Court of New York against Mr. Fauconier for the Recovery of £438. 12. 4, already mentioned, and obtained a Judgment for that Amount. Thereupon an Appeal was taken to the Governor and Council in 1715, who, by a Vote of 5 Ayes against 2

there were two mighty pretty Ladyes good humoured wthout

Noes, reversed the Decision of the Supreme Court, on the Ground that if Lord Cornbury had Power to suspend Mr. Byerley, Mr. Fauconier had a Right to the Salary. Gov. Hunter and Mr. Byerley alone voted for affirming the Judgment of the Court below.

In Consequence either of a Change of Parties in England, or by Means of some special Influence, a Royal Commission was issued on the 4th January, 1715, appointing James Dixon Receiver General and Collector of New York; and he was sworn into Office 26th September following. He retained referve and every way agreable who very well made amends for the former days Company; One of these Ladyes living att Deale I address?'d my selfe to the Office however only about a Year; for on 14th May, 1718, another Royal Commission was issued in favour of Mr. Byerley, who was again sworn in as Receiver General, &c., 9th September of the same Year. He continued in Office until the 3d August, 1722, when he was succeeded by Archibald Kennedy. He was, however, a Member of the Council until his Death, which occurred towards the Close of the Year 1725.

her being a stranger in the Town & wthall being informed it was foe full by reason of the ffleet which lay there that lodgings were very scarce, & defired her to confider the Condicôn of the distress 'd and to recommend me to fome house where I might gett a bed. She told me frankly she would doe what she could and in less than an hour after I came to Deale she sent to me to come to her Lodgings. As foon as I got thither she told me that she had fent to all her acquaintance but could not prvaile. However, if I would accept of such a Room as her house afforded itt was at my service.

You may imagine I was overjoy'd att this thinking it might be attended wth more happy Circumstances, as indeed it proved afterwards for I spent a fortnight there wth more pleasure then I could have Expected from soe slender an acquaintance.

About the middle of Aprill the Wind came abt faire and Capt. Symonds, who is the Gent I came over wth gave me a fummonds to Embarque and I alas was forc't to leave my Mesidora wth much more regrett then if I had stay'd there a month longer for nothing is soe alluring as a new Amour nor soe Cloying as a stale Mistress.

In two days we gott to St. Hellens where we stay'd the remainder of that month, nothing happening worth observation all the while. The ffirst of May we weigh'd Anchor and the next day gott to Plymouth and lay by that day till fome merchtmen who wer to goe under our Convoy could gett out thence and joyn us; that night we fett fayle and abt four days after a very thick fog came and continu'd abt two or three days in which time we had loft company of abt halfe our fleet and the heavyest faylors which I was very well pleafd wth because I thought we might make the better way.

The Three and Twentyeth we came to an anchor wth only eleven faile of merch<sup>t</sup>men (the rest w<sup>ch</sup> were ab<sup>t</sup> 30 being willing to make the best of their way) att Fyall an Island surrounded by severall others all belonging to the King of Portugall lying between 3 & 400 leagues from England. These Islands afford a great deal of very good wines and brandyes and that that I fee might be improved to a much greater advantage then it is but the people are fo proud and Lazy that they'd fooner starve the n use industry. I the less wonder att it when I fee how many Irish (whose perticuler bent to lazines I have noe aversion to mencôn to you) they entertained among them. There are feverall ffryarys and Convents in this Island which I vifited they being all in the Town. I might confess I was furprized to find them foe well built and their Chappels especially which were beautify'd and adorn'd very splendidly. Every thing else that I fee in the Country, having the face of a miserable Poverty but the Preists of these Countryes have Keys to their Treafure which they open either by Promife of Salvation or by threats of damnation, and what would not a man give those Holy Soul brokers for their Absolution? It seem'd very strange to me that the People should be foe bigotted to give foe profusely to those Religious Sinners and even to want common necessaryes them felves, I mean necessaryes for the Support of life, for as for those of the out fide, which are only a long toledo a Dagger and a Cloak, I fee not a Cobler nor Taylor in the Town that was not accoutred wth them and (barring that most of them had noe shooes nor stockings) that might not by the formall stifness of their gate been every one of them a Grandee or a Mountebank.

As by ye first of June the Commander had layd in wine for his Ships Company for his voyage home then we weigh'd Anchor and faild on our course very fortunately till the 25th when there came up a Storm of wind attended wth the most violent Thunder and lightning that any man on board had ever feen & which if I had not been an Eye witness I could hardly have credited. It continued for 5 or 6 hours and towards the end the lightning increased in such a manner and came wth that fury yt att once it carry'd away our foremast, went through the forecastle the boatswains Cabin and main Deck and fplitt a vast peice of Timber between Decks they call the Manger Board and had not the Sails been wett by the Rains that we had then it must have infallably fired the Ship. There were severall men disabled; some struck soe yt they remained wthout motion for a considerable time, but every body by Mighty Providence escap'd wth Life.

This I thank God was the only danger we were in the whole Voyage. Our lofs was repaired the next day well enough to go on our Voyage and the 7th of July we came to an Anchor in Virginia.
